INDIANAPOLIS, NOVEMBER 8, 1845.

"Au liana Democrat." This piratical concern, the organ of the old Junto, made its appearance yesterday. Its tone and spirit Democracy, of course; and pretends to an extraorintimated it would be. The relukes it has already received from the pre s, had a favorable influence in this respect. It now, therefore, pretends to be some what anxious about principles, as well as men. Al these professions of course were to be expected, because few men attempt to play the rascal or hypocrite by any other than good professions. By this rule should our Blackleg neighbor be tested.

Hon. Wm. J. Prown.

The Washington Union, (several numbers of which by the way, were this week delayed by the mails,) contains the following announcement:

"We are happy to announce that Mr. William J. Brown, a representative in the last Congress from Indiana, has been appointed Second Assistant Postmaster General, in the place of William Medill, Esq., of whose business it is to prepare produce for sale there. In three different places—the bed which the murdered tion of tea and coffee, estimated now for the whole have never sufficiently discussed the proposition to the potatoe malady has broken cut in nearly all the Ohio, now Commissioner of Indian Affairs."

Our piratical neighbor does not seem to relish this boot or no boot.

PRINCIPLES vs. Policy. - Touching the folly and danger of temporizing or yielding to mere policy, the New York Evening Post, correctly says:

"No man who understands the history and progre of political parties, will deny the truth of this pare graph. Never has any party of any kind gaine substantially by substituting policy for right. The true way, and the only way for a party to obtain and maintain the ascendency is to deserve it-deserve it by using all the means in its power to maintain those principles which are founded in strict justice and
